Market Price Execution

Mode Description	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Market Order Execution is an instruction to buy or sell at the next available market price. Pursuant to market conditions, there may be a difference between the price selected on our trading platform and the final execution price received. This difference may be less favorable or more favorable than the original quoted price and is a function of market liquidity.</li></ul>
Situation1 Offer price is the same as the request price	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Under Market Order Execution, if the price is same as the customer requested, it will be executed with the same price. (Including of all pending orders and market orders)</li></ul>
Situation2 Offer price is different from the request price	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Under Market Order Execution, if the price is different from the customer requested, it will be executed with the latest price. (Including of all pending orders and market orders)</li></ul>

Limit Order

Limit order cancellation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● All limit orders will be cancelled after the market closes on Saturday and before market holidays (HKT).</li><li>● When the settled limited order reaches the specified price, the limit order will be cancelled and cannot be executed, if a client's account margin is insufficient.</li></ul>
Limit order modification restrictions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● When the executed price of limited order/ pending order is closed to the market price, the order will be unable to modify or cancel. The system will accept the request of modifying and cancelling while the market price is away from the executed price.</li><li>● When the current price is close to $0.5, the limit order cannot be modified. The limited order can only be modified when it is 2 US dollars away from the current price.</li></ul>

Trading ratios

Stop Out Level	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● When margin rate of an investor drops to 30% or below, we will start closing out your trades until your margin level is back above the Stop Out Level.</li></ul>
Lock Position	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● After the market closes on Friday or before the holiday, if the maintenance margin ratio in the account is less than 100%, the system will automatic lock-up all the positions in the account.</li><li>● (Locked positions are positions of equal size on the same account on the same instrument but in opposite directions (buying and selling).</li><li>● When the market opens after the holiday, the new order will not be automatically cancelled by the system, so the customer needs to consider the market situation to choose how to deal with the positions in the account.</li></ul>

Reminders

<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● The company has the right to adjust the bid-ask spread and suspend the limit order without further notice to the customer.</li><li>● The company does not encourage customers to hand over the account password to anyone or make any trading decisions on behalf of customers. If the customer suffers any investment loss, the company will not be responsible for it.</li></ul>
